

Mastering ADA & Title 24 Accessibility

Architects in CALIFORNIA are now REQUIRED to take CONTINUING EDUCATION courses in ACCESSIBILITY as a condition of LICENSE RENEWAL (http://www.cab.ca.gov/licensees/disabled_access_ce_req.shtml). This course is for YOU!

Spend a day with Mike Gibbens, Certified Access Specialist (CASP), and author of the California Disabled Accessibility Guidebook (“CalDAG”), the only publication that combines the most stringent provisions between the ADA Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG) and the California Building Code requirements. The “CalDAG” reference book is considered the number one source on State and Federal persons with disabilities accessibility compliance in California. Mike has written 13 books on disabled accessibility compliance and has served as an expert witness/consultant in countless lawsuits. Mike will bring current code changes to your attention while we learn what the provisions DO and DO NOT require from the top expert in this field.

The seminar covers exterior and interior accessibility conditions and will make you aware of YOUR responsibilities and YOUR liabilities – so YOU can avoid being sued! You’ll also find out what’s not in the books and what it really takes to get your project approved. Save yourself hours of frustration, wasted time and potentially thousands of dollars in avoided litigation. Sign up today!!!
